There is a saying that the friendship of a dog, is better than his ill-will, and for many years, in my capacity as a railroad conductor, I have found the above true to the letter—but mind, I am not saying that I have no enemies, I undoubtedly have a few, and I do not think there is a man that lives but has more or less. A little kindness now and then to the many ones; a conductor will find almost every trip over his conductor will find almost every trip over his road, will not be lost—and he will in many cases, find, from his "bread cast upon the waters," a return four fold. Yet he must use a great deal of judgment in bestowing his charity upon even those be thinks entirely workey of its bestowal. I will in connection, relate a little incident by which a little kindness saved my life, and the lives of all the passengers on board my

The western division of our read runs through a very mountainous part of Virginia, and the stations were few and few between. About three miles from one of these stations the road runs through a deep gorge of the Blue Ridge, and near the center is a small valley, and there hemmed in by the everlasting hills, stood a small one and a haif story cabin. The few acres that surrounded it were cultivated as a garden, and upon the products thereof lived a widow and they earned they bought a few of the necessi-ties of the outside refinement.

The oldest of these children I should judge to be about twelve years, and the youngest about seven. They were all girls, and looked nice and clean, and their healthful appearance and natural delicacy gave them a ready welcome. They appeared as if they had been brought up to God, and to love an humble home and mothget off at the station some three miles from home after disposing of their berries.

I had children at home, and I knew their ittle feet would be tired in walking three miles, and therefore felt that it would be the same with those fatherless little ones. They seemed so pleased to ride, and thanked me with such very hearty thanks, after letting them off near home. They frequently offered me nice tempting baskets of fruit for my kindness, yet I never accepted any without paying their full

On the night of the 26th of December of that year it turned round warm and rain fell in tor-rents. A terrible storm swept the mountain tops, and almost filled the valleys with water. Upon that night my train was winding its way the valleys, and as the road bed was of solid rock, I had no fear of the banks giving out.—
The night was intensely dark, and the wind manned pitcouely though the deep gorges of the mountains. Some of my passengers were trying to sleep, others were taiking in a low voice, to relieve the monotony of the scene.—

They soon returned and their pale faces are full evidence of the frightful death we had escaped. The ladies and gentlemen vied with each other in their thanks and heartfelt gratitude towards Mrs. Graff and to the cars out of the storm and cold. After resching the cars I related our hair breated he store to of the truth of that oft repeated expression of the truth of the truth of that oft repeated expression of the truth of the she was presented with a purse of four hundred and sixty dollars, the voluntary offering of a whole train of grateful passengers. She refused the proffered gift for some time, and said she had only done her duty, and the knowledge of having done so was all she asked. However, she finally accepted the money, and said it should go to educate her children.

The railroad company built her a new house, gave her and her children a life pass over the road, and ordered all the trains to stop and let her off at home when she wished. But the employees needed no such orders, they can appreciate all such kindness more so than directors themselves.

The old lady frequently visits my home at H——, and she is at all times a welcome visitor at my fireside. Two of the children are attending school at the same place.

So you may see that a little kindness cost me nothing and saved my life.—Lancaster Intelligence.

Privatoras, Jan. 11, 1860.

Dr. Kryser:—My willo has been afficied with a bad cough and difficulty of breathing, for few or six pears, which, for several years back, had gradually increased in violence. The complaint has been hereditary, and she had been treated by several physicians without any relief. In this state of her case, I procured some of your Pectoral Cough Syrup. I hought, the first time, a fatty cent bottle, which relieved her very much; I then called and got a dollar bottle, which cared her entirely, and she has now no trace of the former disease, except weakness. I would also state that I used the medicine my self to a cold and cough. The medicine cured me by tak log one dose. I kepress my entire satisfaction with the medicine, and you are at liberty to publish this if you desire to do so.

Alderman Fifth Ward.

DR. KEYSER:—Although not an advocate of Patent Medicines, in general, it affords me pressure indescribs bie to recommend your Pectoral Syrup. As a medicine it is well worthy the attention of any person who may in any manner be afflicted with coughs, colds and hourseness of any hind, and for the peculiar qualifications for removing all that disagreeable sensation attending a severe cold.

moving at this transfer of less, in my life, affected with the severest of colds and hearseness. At times my threat would become so closed as to prevent my speaking above a whisper, and by taking a few doses of the above flyrup it would relieve me entirely.

In recommending this medicine, I must unhesitatingly say that it is the best remedy I ever found, purporting to cure the above, nor should any family be without this remedy for diseases so prevalent.

COL. PRATT AND DR. KEYSER'S PEGTORAL. SYRUP.—Dr. Keyser—Dear Sir: Excuse the delay of my acknowledging the excellence of your Fectoral Cough Syrup sooner. I take great pleasure in saying that it is all you say it is. If knocked the noise out of my ocused and the worst one I was ever afflicted with: I have not used more than one-half of the bottle, and I can and do wish that all who are afflicted would give it as fair a trial as I have done, and they will be proud to say, "It is no quack medicine." I would not suffer another such as attack for any consideration, or at any cost. I am conas I have done, and they will be proved another such an quack medicine." I would not suffer another such an attack for any consideration, or at any cost. I am confident I can breathe more freely than I cv-r did. I shall always acknowledge a debt of grafitude for inventing so excellent a remedy. You are at liberty to use my name in this regard, as you thick proper. E. F. Phatt. PITTERCROE, December, 31, 1853.

A GREAT CURE BY DR. KEYEER'S PROTORAL SYRUP.—I live in Peebles township, Allegheny county. I had a coughing and spitting, which commenced about the 4th of February last, and couldined eight months. It employed the best physicians in the country, and my cough continued unabated until carly in October. At that time I was advised to try your PEOTORAL OUGHE SYRUP, which I did, and after I had taken one bettle I was entirely free from the coughing and spitting. Than despaired of ever getting well, and I think it should be known that this valuable remedy will do for others what it has done in my case.

A WONDERFUL CURE.—Some time age, an old neighbor of mine was very ill, with a bad cough which every one supposed to be consumption. His relatives told me that he had taken every remedy they heard of without benefit; his brother came to see him die, and all were confirmed in the belief that he could not live. I had about the third of a bottle of your Pecteral Syrup, which I gave him, and it entirely cured him, to the astonishment of all. What makes the case more remarkable, is the extreme age of the man, he being about eighty years old. I have no doubt the Pectoral my different life.

DR. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP IN PLAIRS-VILLE.—Please send me another supply of your valu-able "Pestorat Syrup." Almost everybody around us-has the cold and are inquiring for "Dr. Keyser's Pestoral Syrup." We have sold sixteen bottles heat week, and are now entirely out. Mr. A. Alisrand Mr. P. sleep. I had the advice and prescriptions from three of the bestphysicians in the city, whem I could name, but do not do so. I finally procured a bottle of your Pactoral

"STOP THAT COUGHING."—How can I do lit? "Go to Keyser's on Wood street and get a bottle of his Cough Pectoral, and if that don't cure you, your mass must be desperate indeed." This is a specimen of the colloque one bears almost every day in cold catching periods of the year. And we can, from actual experiment, chearfully concur in the advisor's admonition as above, for we have tried the "Pectoral," in a most stubbern case, with entire success. Near two weeks ago we went to Pittsburgh, with one of the most distressing, contrary, mulish, unsubduable coughs we over experienced since our advant upon this mandane sphere. We congled steadily and laboricusly for one whole week, in hopes of strengts out, but it was no go. In fact it seemed rather to have improved by practice, and to have acquired strength, potenty and distressibility by the operation. In this stage of the siege, we com shed our way to Keyser's, 169 Wood St.—procured a fifty cent bottle of the "Pectoral," fook it seconding to directions, and in forty eight hears we was master of the field, the enemy having unconditionally, surrendered, after a brief but unequal conflict with so formidable an adversary as Keyser's famous "Gough Pectoral."—Proconseelle Chipper, Dec. 14, 1859.
